THE LANGUAGE OF GLOBAL BUSINESS

Oil and energy industry operators have very varied demands when it comes to translation services. First of all, the industry jargon is very specific, which requires translator expertise in the industry, but secondly there is a wide variety of texts to translate; yes, technical translation is the bulk of it, but the number of contracts and HR documents in different countries must also be catered for. One translation vendor cannot be expected to be as varied as the oil industry needs dictate – this is where the use of technology comes in handy. Whether it is a customer magazine or an employment contract that you need translated or a technical manual for a new pressure gauge calibration tool – Translizer is your easy to use free online tool to manage your translation needs regardless of the language or area of expertise that you need.

TRANSLIZER ADVANTAGE

FAST, FASTER, FASTEST!

Imagine getting up to 15 pre-vetted translation quotes from the world's leading companies in less than a minute.

DATA SECURITY

Translizer runs entirely on a secure web server with a 256 bit SSL certificate.

COST EFFECTIVE

Having a Translizer account costs nothing. You only pay for the translation itself. Save time when searching for specialist vendors.

QUALITY

Approved Translizer vendors are known for their quality. They are all independently pre-vetted and represent the very best the industry has to offer.

TRANSLATION MEMORY

Take advantage of Translation Memory (TM) discounts and benefits. With Translizer you are in possession of your valuable TM database so you are in total control.

MANAGING MULTI-LINGUAL DOCUMENTS

Translizer allows its users to maximise efficiency, quality and translation budgets through a centralised, web-based, management portal that is free to use. Translizer offers two key benefits: Firstly, the system matches your needs with the third party verified expertise of the world's leading translation companies. Secondly, time saving; Translizer searches and returns quotes in seconds from qualified translation companies so you can do your market research, price comparison and have your translation project underway in less than 3 minutes. How long did it take you last time to get quotes from 5 different translation vendors?

EXPERT TRANSLATION PROCUREMENT ASSISTANCE

Buying translations is an art. The translation services market is extremely fragmented and, as such, it is difficult to negotiate. You have tens of thousands of translation agencies to choose from, of which vast majority claim to be experts in every language and every subject. We have all seen real-life examples of bad translations so the reality is very different.

Translizer is more than just an online portal. We have a dedicated support team at hand to ensure that all your translation procurement, processes and results are what they should be. You can speak to a real person in English 24/7/365 and our local offices are available in other languages during normal business hours. Our e-mail support is also available around the clock so even when you're working late to meet a deadline, we are always there with you. We are your dedicated translation procurement team; only without any increase in your head count. What's best, most of our services are totally free of charge.

Translizer is also 100% independent and our objective is to get you the best quality translations and make your translation budget stretch as far as it can go. We can advise you on your internal processes, vendor selection, rate negotiation, technology and everything else that goes with the territory.

IMPROVE YOUR PROCESSES AND CUSTOMER EXPERIENCE IN EVERY LANGUAGE

Translizer is easily accessible via the internet. If you can book a hotel online, you need no further training to use Translizer. If you need assistance with larger quantity or long-term projects, please get in touch and we can walk you through the translation procurement processes, technology and so on.

Talking to us is free of charge and free of obligation. We are happy to advise you on the industry and your options (of which Translizer is just one) and at the very least we will be very happy to just point you in the right direction to make your business more efficient and successful in every language.
